

BIKINIS

San Marcos, Texas

I've been wondering about this place called Bikinis Sports Bar & Grill, just off I-35, in San Marcos. Would they really be wearing bikinis inside? I've been wondering. Really? And what about the dudes? You know, names can be deceptive. Hooters isn't really about owls, it turns out.

I wonder no more, though. Inside, every customer is a guy. Every server and bartender, however, is definitely not a guy, and the name of the place is right on the nose. It is not deceiving anyone in any way. This unsolved mystery is solved—bikinis are everywhere.

Plus, it just so happens my Lakers are playing the Celtics, and I'm in a sports bar surrounded by gorgeous and voluptuous big-screen televisions. Look now—my blonde bartender approaches. "Hello-o-o," I croon to her, "Did you know I am a writer for Tasting Panel Magazine?"

June 2010